Color perception is subjective, and certain colors have a very universal significance. This is coded into our reptilian brain, giving us that instinctive feeling of fire being dangerous and the beach being relaxing. Color psychology is a very important tool used by artists, interior decorators, and as a marketing mechanism in many industries.

Color Psychology - The Ultimate Guide to Color Meanings

Two studies on color combinations, one measuring aesthetic response and the other looking at consumer preferences, also find that while a large majority of consumers prefer color patterns with similar hues, they favor palettes with a highly contrasting accent color.
